Replace This Text with the Title of Your Paper – Align Centered, Title Case, 14 pt Times New Roman Font

Main author of affiliation 1, coauthor of affiliation 1, etc. (first initial and family names only, e.g. W. Parker)

Affiliation 1, City, State Country

Coauthors of affiliation 2 (same as above)

Affiliation 2, City, State, Country

Keywords: Keyword1, Keyword2, Keyword3 (3-5 keywords)

Abstract

These instructions are intended to be used as a template also. Replace this text with your abstract, which should be 100 to 250 words.

Articles should be no more than 12 pages in length and submitted in Microsoft Word version 2000 or higher. The file must be a word processing document. Macintosh users need to convert their files to Word 2000 and save them with a .doc extension in the filename.

First-Level, Called-Out Heading

The first called-out heading after the “Abstract” is usually “Introduction”. First-level and second-level called-out headings are 12 pt Times New Roman, boldface, and title case, which means each word starts with a capital letter. First-level heads are centered, and second-level heads are flush left. If a third-level is needed, it is 12 pt Times New Roman, flush left, boldface, title case, and italic. Do not number or letter your headings. Insert one space between the heading and the body of the last line of text from the previous section.

Second-Level, Called-Out Heading

Insert the text of the body of your article here, replacing this text. The margins should be justified using Times New Roman, 12 pt font. Use single spacing and indent the first paragraph by one tab. Do not insert a space between paragraphs within each section. Chemical formulas are written using subscripts, such as Al_2O_3 , not Al2O3 .

Third-Level, Called-Out Heading

The page dimensions should be American Letter format, 8.5 x 11 inches. Select file/page setup/paper size and see “Letter, 8.5 x 11 in.” Margins should be 1 inch at the top, bottom, right, and left.

Do not add any headers or footers, such as page numbers, and use the SI system of units (cm, °C, MPa). Avoid footnotes whenever possible. Instead, enclose text within parentheses and keep within the paragraph.

Tables

Place tables within the text after the paragraph in which they are first mentioned. Number tables with Arabic numbers (1, 2, and 3) followed by the table title, and place the title (boldface) above the table. The table title and body should be 10 point Times New Roman.

Table 1 The spraying parameters for experiments

Injecting	Ar (L/min)	H ₂ (L/min)	N ₂ (L/min)	H ₂ %
Axial	17.7+16.3	5.5	--	13.9
Internal	30	8.1	17,7	14.5
External	30	6	8.1	13.6

Figures

Center figures and center the caption (10 pt Times New Roman, italic) below each figure. Do not place figures side-by-side unless they share a caption. Preferred image files are .tif and .eps and should be placed at 100% of the original size. Micrographs and other halftones should be at least 300 dpi (dots per inch), and line-art (graphs, schematics, and bar charts) should be at least 900 dpi. Micron bars should be used on micrographs. Ensure type in figures is large and clear enough to be read; it will not be reset. Crop and place images in your electronic document where you want them to appear in the article.

Color is acceptable, but when the article is printed, it will likely be in black and white. So avoid light colors, such as yellow, light blue, light green, and pink. Plots in a graph should be delineated by a symbol or line pattern. Avoid color graphs in which delineation between plots is indicated by color alone.

Equations

Equations should be separated from the text by one blank line above and below. Number equations consecutively and place the number on the last line of the equation. Built-up equations should be keyed in Word Equation Editor.

$$\frac{\partial(\rho\bar{v})}{\partial t} + \text{div}(\rho\bar{v} \otimes \bar{v}) = -\text{grad}(\bar{p}) + \rho\mathbf{g} + \text{div}(\boldsymbol{\tau}) \quad (1)$$

For math and special characters, such as \leq , \times , \ddot{u} , \acute{a} , 45° (degree symbol), α , π , β , μ , \otimes , use the Symbol font. In Word, go to “Insert Symbols”. Use the keyboard for $!$, $\%$, $&$, $$$, $#$, $@$, etc.

Conclusions

If there are conclusions or a summary, place them before the acknowledgments or references. Each of these heads should be first-level, called-out heads.

Acknowledgments

If there is an acknowledgments section, it should be placed just before the references.

References

Place references at the end of the article using the following format. References should be referred to in text and numbered sequentially. Use standard abbreviations for journal names.

Creating PDF Files from Your Word Document

Your Word file will be converted to a PDF before being included on the CD-ROM for distribution at the MS&T event in Pittsburgh in October 2008. Using the Manuscript Central site set up for this process will automatically convert your Word document to a PDF during the submission and upload steps. Once Manuscript Central has converted your document into a PDF, there is a review step where you will be able to check over your manuscript to be sure that all the information and images you uploaded converted correctly.

If you must create a PDF before submitting your manuscript, please follow the steps listed below Using Adobe Acrobat Professional Software.

1. Click on Adobe PDF in the menu bar and select Change Conversion Settings.
2. Open the Settings tab and select Press Quality in the Conversion Settings window.
3. Click OK (you will return to the document window).
4. Click on Adobe PDF menu and select Convert to Adobe PDF. Your file will be converted to a press quality pdf file.

To confirm that the fonts are embedded in your document:

1. Open the PDF file.
2. Go to File in the menu bar and select Document Properties.
3. Open the Fonts tab (Each font used in the document will be listed. If the words Embedded Subset do not appear next to the font name, the fonts are not embedded and the PDF file will need to be recreated.) Note: The fonts must exist or be installed on the computer that's used to create the pdf file in order to embed the fonts in the PDF document.
4. Click OK to return to the document.

Other PDF Writer Software

You cannot use the free software, Acrobat Reader, to create your PDF. You need a PDF Writer software, such as the free Cute PDF Writer. When using Cute PDF Writer, ensure fonts are embedded by checking the box to be Automatic for True Type Fonts Download Option. This is found in Layout\Advanced\Document Options\Postscript Options.

INFORMATION FOR AUTHORS

- Work made for hire:* If you are an employee and your paper was prepared as part of your job, the copyright to the paper belongs to your employer. If you as an author sign the copyright transfer form, you represent that you are authorized by your employer to do so and that your employer has consented to all of the terms and conditions of this form. If not, it must be signed by someone so authorized.
- Joint authorship:* For jointly authored papers, only one signature is required if all authors work for the same company; the paper thus is a work made for hire, the copyright rests with the employer rather than the individual authors, and anyone authorized by the employer may authorize the copyright transfer. When the authors work for different employers, a separate copyright transfer form must be signed by the authorized agent for each employer. When authors are self-employed, each must sign a separate copyright transfer form. Co-authors who are U.S. Government employees are not required to sign this form, but any co-authors outside the U.S. Government must sign Part A.
- Work performed under U.S. Government contract:* Authors whose work was performed under U.S. Government contract, but who are not employees of the U.S. Government, are required to sign Part A. Item 5 of Part A returns the reproduction rights to the U.S. Government when required for U.S. Government purposes, while retaining the MS&T'08 Organizers' copyright protection with respect to reuse of the material by the general public.
- MS&T'08 Organizers' policy on assignment of copyright:* As a convenience and courtesy to the technical community, the MS&T'08 Organizers will routinely grant permission upon request to authors to use in their papers, portions of works by other authors for which copyright has been transferred to the MS&T'08 Organizers. The MS&T'08 Organizers reserve the right to use any parts or the entire paper in revised editions, derivative works, etc.
- The MS&T'08 Organizers' publishing policy on presentations accepted for conferences and symposia:* the MS&T'08 Organizers reserve the right to publish, reproduce and display presentations accepted for conferences and symposia prior to publication elsewhere. Permission to reprint presentations from the MS&T'08 Organizers' publications must be obtained prior to publication elsewhere.

PUBLISHER INDEMNITY

The author agrees that the article has not been previously submitted for publication or published elsewhere. Further, the author agrees that the article is original and that it contains no matter which is libelous, obscene, or infringes any existing right of privacy, copyright, trademark or any other statutory or common law proprietary or civil right and is not otherwise unlawful. The author agrees to indemnify, defend, and hold the MS&T'08 Organizers and their directors, officers, employees, and agents harmless against any claims to the contrary.
